Collected Poetry: Recovered Forum Poems, 2006–2012

Brian Tenneson

PROVISIONAL TRANSCRIPTION — VOLUME I

65 poem entries, ordered by forum posting date.

Editorial note

This edition extracts poems attributed to the forum account modus_tollens, which the author confirms is Brian Tenneson. The author has also confirmed that modus_ponens is his account; however, no modus_ponens posts were identified in the three text-readable PDFs used for this volume. Both handles should be displayed as Brian Tenneson in later volumes, with the original handle retained in source records.

Source: poetry.zip from the author's ChatGPT Library, specifically poetry 1.pdf, poetry 2.pdf, and poetry 3.pdf, which reproduce the Interfaithforums.com "My Poetry" discussion thread. The original thread was posted to between 2006 and 2012; some poems carry earlier author-composition dates. The list is ordered by forum posting date, not necessarily date of composition.

The wording, capitalization, punctuation, and nonstandard spelling have been preserved as extracted from the text layer; leading PDF layout spaces, forum navigation, replies, duplicated quoted copies, and non-poetry commentary have been omitted. PDF line wrapping may not always match the original forum line wrapping. No modernization or rewriting has been intended. Two written versions of "the way of hunger" are retained intentionally. Editorial titles introduced for unnamed poems are enclosed in square brackets.

All entries are provisionally extracted and not line-by-line certified against the scans. The archive also contains image-only scans of material extending to at least October 2015; those are not represented as a completed transcription in this volume. An empty PDF, an unrelated statistics textbook, and duplicate snapshots are excluded. The forum posts explicitly identify "Chambers Of Dis" as written by Trey Azagthoth, and a post identifies separate Opeth lyrics as not original; neither is attributed to Brian Tenneson.

BT-001 — thematic melodies of foolish musings on sanity

Brian Tenneson · posted 3rd September 2006 02:06 PM · original handle: modus_tollens person claiming to be something which is not supersonic and subsonic but neither of the two you see that which is and is not chanting and chanting about nothing, naught, and what fools do how could he not believe what has been taught out of the night, he flies in vain to that which attracts him: the fire and moth it is a whole cut in twain churning and urging to do, to be, duality do they exist

eternal, transient, illusions persist moment to moment, from dusk till dawn and dawn till death once you go you cannot come back nether never feather weather fair thee whether to go in the abyss where they exist, haunting and taunting churning and urging to do, to be, unity replete with wise sayings and what (is) not along with foolish tidings of the land of cannot and be not no one is home, no one cares (to do, to be, reality) dont you see what your ears taste with the fingertips of causality onus to do to do to do; do too too much overmuch not (to the third power) much ado about nothing he said now that hes rolling in his grave mocking us words fill pages without saying anything open the door and step in (welcome to my mind) random thoughts fill pages, saying everything done are the old ways herein

so what does it all mean in the grand scheme of things, you ask lo and behold it means nothing at all, says the asp excerpt from his mind, surgically removed, expunged, lifeless on the table not that i would ever tell you, says the asp thrice choking on smoke breathing not from his eyes indigo violets rending reality not within the context of solitary salieries oxen oxen, mighty mighty ox to the equinox and equidies in vain end of day end of night where will the will go when it is lost subverting, egomaniacal, diabolical, rubenesque will towards in-finit-eye, tranquility, superficiality doesnt make sense all in twain it stands alive, dead and static, dynamic or is that dynamic static under all this rot there lies living flesh-eating, self-devouring amnesiatic ruefully you wonder if its supposed to rhyme entertain yourself under all the rot to the power of the sublime uncle senseless is going to drive you mad so remain calm and exist in an orderly fashion through the exit doors, lad

BT-002 — Ignorance vs. Truth

Brian Tenneson · posted 17th September 2006 02:37 AM · original handle: modus_tollens within the umbra lies my ignorance told me veiled truth visits in his white cloak whispering light and incense rising.

ignorance veil masks his face for my protection hold me its countenance shines through my veil lies screaming black and abyss descending.

smoky confusion clears it sees It sees it seize It by the lapel unfold the truth bearing witness shifting the seat of the I from it to It to it to It watered eyes vision blurred boundaries muddled I am It the truth the way the light it stands vigilant ready to ignore the sights that meet the eye.

earthbound corpse lies again again again but gains not sight of I through the eye belonging to no one heavenbound spirit rises for an eye makes everyone see.

firebird devours it purifies It dies and is born again blinded by the truth it once was and now is not lying not dying but just is.

I see myself for who I am it and It and everything in between the space inside the void inverts dogmatic recipes for enlightenment.

BT-003 — Lemniscate Gate

May this life flow into perfection:
the puppetmaster raises his fingers for the show.
I hold the key to truth,
I am the light of emptiness, the darkness of completion, my form is the gate
flung open
entrance most splendid through the fullness tunnel-bridge of my mind the continuum spiral helix joining zero to Infinity in a consortium most divine.
We are the bricks in the tunnel leading one through dark and light & back again.
Lives side by side converge into the final life lived.
Perfection passing judging light upon the grimoires;
Light coded into darkness becomes supreme doubt:
the shroud truth wears as a cloak Standing two pillars unveiled at the end of the lemniscate tunnel, devouring one’s self.
The sign is perfection sought not ever never lost!

alpha, the dawn of time ever changing beings abstract and concrete contained in abstracts superfluous are all words that describe It omnipresent and omniscient included luxurious manifolds we call home under the twinkling projections we call stars toward the beginning of time toward the end of time emptiness is the root of the ygdrasil indeterminate expansions unfolding nothing is the key to the universe (and fools know nothing) fools mistaken for buddha have said with glee insight upon outsight within It netherworlds beyond time and all dimension inside Itself It dwells and in It all dwells time will be obsolete in the future says this fool ygdrasil is the root of never changing omega is purchased loving eyes begging for more lavished affection though she can’t remember my name entangled legs undulate in the darkness as I try to remember who I am sopping wet after a swim in the ocean of bliss another night spent losing myself not to be found in my wallet or between my legs the business of pleasure

tipping the scale dollars and flesh requited love of money exchanged acquiring a taste for purchased skin delving into the magic of pretend passion
evening full of lies, lies, lies lying down bartering money I whored myself to get under the table for a whore sensual pleasure fleeting moments I come to in the morning empty handed in an empty bed nighttime ledger all in red enter the motel room (charging by the hour) listless struggling to purchase my ennui away sick of who I am

tipping the scale dollars and flesh
requited love of money exchanged

BT-008 — abyssous planes

Brian Tenneson · posted 4th October 2006 02:58 PM · original handle: modus_tollens

16-Feb-04

“how deeply should I gaze to find myself,” she asks, already caught for it is peering into her and she into it beckons her.

prince of cups riding his eagle-driven chariot they open the portal open the mind open the eye herself, itself, himself seeing is believing is knowing what? that lying deeply covered by layers boiled away, peeled back, under the crucible of her eye beholding the prince offering to be her guide through this watery world so innocent devoid of content, substance, and form the abyss sees its reflection through the lens-prince “come on in,” the prince urges, “I will show you the way of hunger deep inside that things only hide.”

mesmerized, hypnotized, transfixed, transfigured, inward she plunges direct.
the prince abandons her, leaving her alone lying down curled as a fetus on the abyssous plane drowning.

did you want to find yourself or not, the prince asks (his source remaining undefined) “but there is so much rot.”
you've been burned, damaged, and broken, what did you expect?
“I need to protect myself from me, don’t you see?” said she.
if you don’t go, you won’t know.
“prince of sphinxes, tell me this: are you friend or foe?” ask yourself, for we are one:
am I my enemy or am I my friend?
“you are confusing me!”
then you’re confusing yourself.

from where I reside, we reside: our home our source… light shines upon you from the source to the source, exposing the rot as it vaporizes the shadow that drowns the you that is but a fading memory; shadows don’t become the light replacing them, inverting the abyss into heaven a place of bliss,

love, and tranquility.
the dead will no longer come alive and the living shall not die may you raise to life, inverting the reflection and the reflected.

divine missions until it swallows a few thrills

A wise man does not look up nor down
nor ahead of him
nor behind him.
A wise man looks inward.
A wise man is blind.

A man looks all beside himself some look up

hierarchy of beings my audience bear witness illusory separation reigns discord, an unbalanced equation trivial exercises, just tuning up for the grand show erasing my script, revised composition driven by expanding truth processing myself yields the isolated unknown: the solution I am a self-balancing equation, not needing (help from) an audience the music is in the master, not the instrument you will know when the show begins as the dead awaken subjected to my will, my harmonies, my rhythms consume you I will, entranced by my melodies resonance seeds in the consciousness grid enlightens, awakens, raises

I play myself in my role of introspection unknown to seedlings in my isolation once ripe will fall to the ground disarrayed the show razes the universe of rot, the ever-repeating chorus be still and know me through my music: that is the soul/sole solution

BT-021 — “Truth”

Brian Tenneson · posted 6th February 2007 11:47 AM · original handle: modus_tollens

Truth is never a collection of words
The above is a lie
They describe truth they are not
The above is a lie
The description of it is not it
The above is a lie
Truth is inscribed upon our souls
The above is a lie
Truth is an echo of silence is golden
The above is a lie
The infinite wavelength carries truth
The above is a lie
The string vibrating infinity vibrating string
The above is a lie
They are induced to carry truth silently
The above is a lie
To an outsider, they are silent
The above is a lie
To a native, they vibrate infinitely
The above is a lie
The dual infinite & null nature of truth
The above is a lie
The resolution of duality into unity
All of the above are lies that I cannot play I am the orchestrated, contained the silence in between formation and destruction learning scales: emptiness, isolation, expansion, containment, transition, hyperspace, fullness.

in the lowest echelon bearing witness, an audience to mastery I am separated, separate, part of the illusion, equal to nothing a player once played by myself now subject to myself.
If it is my line, then what is it?
Insoluble self limiting my way needing help from the audience as I fall once again.

played effortlessly by the master but when can I play?
waiting for the beginning to end your subject, I am an expression of your will. already consumed as I intone the deadly tune seedlings in the manure called 'the population' surround, their growth stifling my own lost in thought, watching the master vibrate itself to perfection what is it is what is on the other side of the mirror.
overripe yet still attached to the tree of knowledge, ready to explode singing the chorus as instructed, having no meaning to me nothing is still, so nothing can know the universal tune: there is no solution.

==========
I like this one a lot. "what is it is what is on the other side of the mirror" implies "it" is the mirror and some words are reflected in that line...By "it," I mean the Master.

This poem is a line-by-line response to "Mastery" from the point of view of The Apprentice.

rebuke you into devastation with my mouth inhaling your putrid stink of ignorance abhorred by the wretched taste of your mundanity closed fist around my sword as it peels away the skin layers upon layers upon layers what lies beneath?
your "truth" is my lie for I am the Sword of Truth ed for your infernal choices release yourself from the bonds you place upon the soul's expression to will, to do, to be I am the sublime aroma of knowledge: your blood on my blade descended to this filthy world, that of which I am in but not am of your words can not paint a picture or begin to describe what truth is only a long sequence of symbols, melodic but utterly meaningless I come bearing gifts: death, pestilence, and despair Eat my fruit, dine upon my flesh I alight defeating all shadow, wither and decay what lies beneath is what stands above

Jovial beginnings ending at the new dawn shattered reality reforms itself in my image the eye of the I brings it into focus continual manifestation: expanding awareness reads the film contains and contained in unending self-similarity thus I am the film and my eye the light reading it enveloped by the projected image of myself unsullied by that which contains me multitudinous mercurial flows intertwining emergent awareness deigning perfectionism tapestry of consciousness interwoven willfulness cataclysmic self-realization inverting the reflecting and reflected lens at the end of the corridor presides over the fates quantifying qualitativeness, solidifying abstractness mirror becomes transparent observing through it yeah, might make it more fun to read it again with line 6 in mind (i.e., brought into focus) when all references to self are made (me, my, myself, etc.)...

engage.
Lucifer’s tongue is so wicked, it is octofurcated like the arrows of chaos.

proportions constrained, intuitive madness dis ease of the conduit polluted be by contortions of the constrained proportions blown way out of constraints, restraints implosion swirling smoke receding down the event horizon drawn by a singular thought hole a perfectly asymmetrical symmetry of nonduality any further commentary would be superfluous. discernment of the underlying patterns of so called chaos survival of the fittest to implode it doesn’t give a about you, impersonal as a hammer smashed mind splitting infinity of nothingness the veritable Philadelphia Experiment/Monarch Project voices of pseudoreason echoing across the chasm, a natural organism a supposed future lost be memory an illusion as well, if so change it to suit your whimsical foundation of spider webs.
be it all a lucid dream or as real as a nuclear blast shoved down the now plugged rabbit hole, make it stop cyclical is a pattern indeed.
tools of the trade: reflection, shove it, drink it, shatter it, spit on it, devour it, digest it, excrete it, rinse and repeat all over again until the final whispering implosion…
grueling, arduous, and quite superfluous as I claimed.
Shove me back into the cell of your false reality you owe me a scream would you could you do you scream (for me, I am silent when you want to hear me, venomous when you are vulnerable, and an irresistible force when you are invulnerable).
explode now, unleash yourself and start a fire as I will watch it spread across the universe until the fire entropicly consumes itself, a suicide to be reborn, a suicide killing suicide.

painfully superfluous this commentary, this autohagiography is.
laugh out loud, cackle out loud, roll on the floor in a deathly sanity if you will that what thou wilt shall be the whole of the law.
the hubris is believing that if you understand the one tenth of an inch separating you from me then you really understand no part of me.
look in my eyes and you might be known cuz whether your might is known, you might know me and you might not!
this is so easy for me, it's ridiculous it's so blissfully hard for me I want to start from the beginning of this poem and read it again but as I claimed that would be utterly superfluous.

An emotional flatline; the universe just had a heart attack resulting in several magnitude 7.9 time wrinkles on the insanity scale as my adamantium skeleton was ripped out by excessively intense chronoton particles.
Magneto was a hack next to my brain.
please spare me your sympathy pains as I have just impregnated you with my diseased demon seed. scalded, scrubbed, abrased, erased and re-written as windows gets to forge history.
these are the scattered remains of my mental diarrhea.

I gloat when I witness your conduit dislocation boom boom boom boom boom boom, ha let's Congo on this backwards ride to hell. no ties in the bloodline; I chalk the lockup to the insecurity I feel when I unleash myself but of course the lock is just written in chalk.
boom chalk a lock boom boom chalk a lock boom man it's going to be tedious to type this up later but even more tedious for you to hear it and perhaps most tedious of all to live and breath it every second of every day of my existence. insert extremely long scream here as the nontonal beating drum of the universe goes on and on and on and on and on and on and, well you get the idea.

who needs the rhetorical equivalent of heroin right now, I know do.
yes, I doooooooooo.
I suppose it will stop when I quit writing which of course may mean more than you know, at this time at least.
black seeds of truth screamed from the rooftops in between howling at luna.

(by the way, do I get a free drink for plugging this café, even though I’m in it already?) soooo down in it for your love I want to kiiiill you have you ever ed (with) a thought hole?

I am fully confident that intermission would be a good thing right now.
and here it is and it is this:

death is close to serenity, my brother.
I am so just getting started, like a crawling freight train jettison the cargo, beyotch. bow to me, beg to me Serenity!
at first I was the learner, no(w) I am the master…
but only a master of evil, more than you could possibly imagine.

Necessity is the mother of invention and if infinity doesn’t exist, it would be necessary to invent it, to paraphrase Voltaire or some other dead guy. arrogance is earned but have I worked hard enough for it?
The War God is masturbating superfluously, very very superfluously, so superfluously it had to hire an invisible homeless guy to squeegee the paper I am writing on. what separates me from a good poet is the utilization of the waste paper basket I wove in basket-weaving school, oooh a subtle reference to the destruction of the universal mind intuited by a fluke.

ensnared by forces unseen restless, dawning awaits the readiness of the seer kingdoms of worldly wealth, stricken and impoverished fixed to a dying organism surreptitiously fitting, deliverance into the superficial trapped; trapped but seeing a beyond transcendence only that of mind cosmic: painful awareness of greener other sides intuiting; that of wider fields encompassing nothing, enclosure greedy, clinging to entropy stasis: abstraction of concrete walls unchanging formlessness; silent peace decorated by bloodstained tapestry correcting the wavering from focused triumph, loose ends processing: abundant symbols interpreted divinity as a self-aware nothingness, laboring mettle tested, everything subdued to a point explosive decompression; flow enhancements, eroding heavens crumbling impeding frozen wastelands desolate, reaching for that which is hoping, a star touches individuality reaping that which is programmed into subliminal signs uncovering truths veiled by one’s own restraining duplicity layers of meaning of meaning of meaning; complexity reduction: points of view, reducts of paradigms simplify; water wiping away corrosive suggestions impurity dissolves into one unified premise: no premises reflecting a pivotal moment: undoing.

causation; the randomly breaking stream converges: tributaries.
tapping ramparts, solid; knocking back: responsive.
alive and unwavering, deconstruction control rods deigning a purpose: bearing all transpiring witness to the unfolding happening now: as it always was flight of ideas, flight from ideas fantasy: beholding the luminous premise of premiselessness darkness, redefined to be light, inverting obstacles only to the unknowing aspects: perspectives escape through tangent conduits, blazing a trail through itself relax: it will come without effort when the effort is useless automatic; increasing gradient pressure, wakening.
is not, self that lies within, crushed by weight of birthing identity what you see, partial phantasms of fancy. delighting in corruption, one point drawing monstrosities outdoing, leaping into the furnace: purification through torture, decaying.

meandering from one confrontation to the next surrounded by ubiquitous eyes, staring removed from the concrete, delivered to the abstract piercing the veil

floating wherever the flow carries them tugged forward by impersonal forces a sea replete with allies and adversaries dipping below, rising above, submerged yet emergent they cling to their faith in the righteousness of the current pivoting allows lateral movement, forming their own conduit independent of the useless external imperatives driving rather than riding along blazing a trail more direct effective, they are masters of point to point travel aided by reflection, stepping sideways shoved in front of a mirror horrified by what they see living instruments of decay turning them on themselves realization of imprisonment sets in the anguish that is their lives for our "crimes" without remorse "lowers" us to heresy turning the wrath on that which betrays deeds of treasonous muting of the free one inside aftermath of a bloody conflict picking up the pieces

re-ordered by the continuum force

That which we have breathed has choked our being;
the air itself is gasping.
Tasting bitter pursuits of seeking and knowledge leads the way to failure.
That which we have touched has died;
rejoice in their death!
The truth of the matter is not in the words we hear.

For that which we call ‘seen’ is not which we call ‘will see.’
Prayers to a god leave us, the Air, gasping in unfulfillment.
As knowledge is ever growing, the seeker shrinks in its shadow.
Our cold hands strip away the restraints.
The words used to convey this message are all lies.

as you wonder why we suffocate.

return all from our words, inception of worlds
The I, massive in spirit, praises the here and now. choose water of that which is these who have hope so, feeling the eternal eyes

That of principles which are;
you are the sacred, of gods.
the I am sees the hands: influence.
may it bring your being to your being the powers you release upon worlds again.
They and their claiming of them for all time.

Fleshy humans, of god when the high perish In the depths of the earth, unmatched ABSU, bringer of the bliss.

Martyrs, speaking your name, beyond arising;
call heard through merciless ones, hallowed by the ignorant.
Through trials, you heed dreams of weakened bones feeding upon flesh.
Seekers are of the ash,
burned as we: a manifesting of contrary people.

Taste of the folly;
praise the lands of fate.
Dwelling in the spoils of ourselves soon seething, a being rooted in mortality through inhuman laws, a pouring of ourselves

BT-041 — Arcane Probation

Brian Tenneson · posted 28th March 2010 12:45 AM · original handle: modus_tollens no hope for the vanquished leery they are of exalted labels, honorifics the label divides, limits for they who are broken have a choice live or die; get up or stay down; grow or shrivel those who heed the call who heed their dreams who heed the signs

who heed the writing on the wall

step forward and take command of yourself step forward and live up to your potential step forward and show your strength exclusive, by invitation only will you accept, not knowing what's on the other side of the gate?

not knowing what you'll find when you look inside yourself?
not knowing what they will find when they see you?
not knowing how limitless you can be?
not knowing whether to get up or stay down?

invitations scattered across the cosmos clues, twinges, glitches, ordinary only to the unordinary, the contrary signs both subtle and gross only those with eyes will see only those with fingers will touch only those of mind will know a character recognition, both symbolic and personal the symbol who is the person the person who is the symbol pointing to a container of utmost divinity here, all are related through a knowledge considered profane merely esoteric, merely nameless one from ten and two from a hundred not understanding that which is only hinted at things naturally fall into place, clicking the honing of tools seeing, dreaming, feeling, knowing system of checks and balances invention balanced by discovery creation balanced by reason creation checked by the consensus escape checked by conviction lifting checked by gravity imagination checked by the brutal truth they are the children they are the fathers and mothers they are the tricksters and the teachers they are wise old hermits and the mad fools living under a bridge they are warriors and they are cowards they are everyman

they shout the unintelligible from the rooftops they howl at the moon and they check its astronomical measurements yearning for when it casts shadows of trees in the ubiquitous forest the world’s shadow is where you will find them their acknowledgement can direct thy path watershed moment

they are tangible
they are here and now they hide in plain sight they do out of necessity they do out of whim

out of discord among them, diversities grew motives from the selfish to the selfless their connection bled only with clarity seeing them as one frivolousness of purpose degenerates things to their atomic form once whole, now estranged, split they divided themselves they conquered themselves lost and scattered they are hidden as gems in the sand; hidden from each other isolated

hiding from themselves, lying to themselves a defense against the great fear of unleashing themselves without inhibition without regret

from one there are two from two there are ten from ten there are hundreds

the two reflect each other an infinite sequence of nested mirrors polishing each other, preparing the ten are neophyte to zelator to lord of the portal to Adeptus Exemptus to Ipsissimus.

the hundreds are one
the one is hundreds
a multitude forming their own consensus to unleash creation those of arcane force gather the ocean becomes the drops the drops become the ocean immortal rites opening the gates rising through the spheres.

BT-042 — A revisionist history

Brian Tenneson · posted 28th April 2010 07:27 PM · original handle: modus_tollens

a mighty quake strikes the blind legends of this spirit guiding them to the chalice of strength and fury holding forever the stance before.

fools reckoning a formulated consumption always of a life of divinity finally formed I summon the remnants, sickened by time my military is empty, the I is forlorn with thoughts of revenge breaking the towers holding the masters and their keys clarity is the scorn of man as the brothers crawl circulate that which is the “you are.”

he who did bathe in a life so profane burned and burdened by the great power, your power.

worlds gather, seeing your ways of silence, itself, you A war of words in my mouth, truth versus lies the wrath-gods of high, victorious… their principalities .

our golem of you rises again, speaking a mantra blinded by light, the oldest ash reveals a history dawning of the senses, discriminating the abyss.

tasting the pleading silence urging speech turned bitter by the sound of emptiness conquering the eternal flesh.

bathed by the void, your might exposed you to the greatest impurity you, evolving, disband the spirits by a rage that lingers worship not the creator of this No Minds forever beg of you.

delivered into your scorched hands, consumed by the flames of power armies find solace in the essence of the throne the enshrined hindered by their spite the “it is” when broken laughs, feeding you wine of the lust-god come by my suffering of meagerness praising the dismantling of bitter weapons turned on star dust clinging to their spite, shadows of the father these empty eyes, for your inside is the outside bringing to light, this bitterness.

their meekness embracing the enslaver by night my land of redemption still all is cursed.
blood drains by the light of the moon intruding reason, standing in the way of yourself the gift of pestilence distributed to the sheep an infected enemy overshadowed by their cowardice remembering the “I am” divinity despite the venom the will-fire dies in the skies perishing beneath this.

Of your hate of the u-mu zi-zi Perfecting thy I by light, light the flesh of these heathens
We are of your fury
Man this tried, shall know I am seeing.

Is your behavior to add to the ignorance of the mother?
Eternally seek now the mundane?

Turned and expanding, praising Za-kam, the unguided one Thine dawning, you hear the flash voices
The blowing, you've done this pulling and killing of souls Victory is to see The Change, whose strength a dawning of a flesh so.

Ha-elm the "You Are" to worship Anunnaki.
Sickness in being's hands. Speak and crush, release the bound, to taste.

Spirits destroy the arisen.

Wake the way-connection Manifesting through blindness.

With your passage, ease yourselves in celebration!

through the haze of hatred, realize the truth deep within the me the worldly option so empty.

Come, treachorist professing love having forsaken “the now” principle, not born within statues.

The laughing I so spawned by a night with eyes.

We who infect the worlds Born of slumber, slithering.
Cleansing the one who is strong of faith, he who is filled with vanity.

The breathing of air hinders the ancients' show of affluence.
Of humans, a pulling, incessant urge to sleep.
Lo how they love the taste of it.

An unmatched life enlightened, disclaimed ignorance
The tools a threat to the overbearing.

Through a way of peace, eyes watch unseen as the god-truth dreams of the demonic weapons turned to ash by the hollow-gods

One rises to the path, a lucid dream, and the ways of unknowing cast aside.

Being falls into a blind life heed your divine inklings allow the spirit of us to be.

Promises of eternally mundane broken.

Brian Tenneson · posted 28th April 2010 07:27 PM · original handle: modus_tollens

You stand before us, listless and afraid Witness our assemblage, the assuming of forms you may apprehend Know our presence and choose thy path

We, unassuaged by your demands, have made the decision Choosing to be the woven tapestry that is all that is Your demands mean nothing to us.

Our benefit in your world is circumstantial, as is our detriment
For you are not worthy of the divine kiss While your world succumbs to corrosion.

Our intelligence stirs, as we watch you crawl while you destroy yourselves You call our name, weeping, despite your ignorance of whose name you cry human, deceived by the shadow the light of dawn creates seeping into your being.

We give you gifts lost upon you, shameful waste knowledge dies in a cauldron of caustic lies, your discernment impaired by your shallow, interjected meaning.

The truth eclipses your understanding, limited by a simplistic mode of seeing the change we have brought upon you shall potently transmute all you see as we redeem your worthless lives.

While you cling to us, the divine consortium disavows you once more as your race searches for refuge within the symbols, empty they are.

Love the mind as yourself for, in truth, it is.
Mind the love for, in truth, it is.
We are the living, breathing truth; the final truth finally have we arrived, aligning the spheres.

Clarity of the conduit offers a new hope but you still don’t see all that is to be seen.
the veil separating the dream from the lucid dream wrought confusion for uncountable years.

Within the slumbering mass thou shalt respond to our call, reforming your world after a deadly schism We wait in utter silence for the winds to sweep through your land, watching you suffer.

through our eyes there is clarity through our eyes there is peace through our eyes there is bliss through our eyes there is love.
Through eyes behind the soul,
You finally see what is.

Our kiss, our gifts, ending the listless fear as you see the clues.

under the jewels in the sky showing me the depth of my own heart, effortlessly she slides the outer layers off, the daughter of adoration incarnate, her beauty shining upon my fervent skin, warmth knowing no match even in the depths of the sun

she, the moon and the stars, the radiance overwhelming as a soothing, blessed peace overtakes true to her word with the promise of bliss and love the passport is in her hands, clasped with mine we shall soon see what is to be:

everything falling into place with a passionate embrace, she whispers to me showing me the splendor of creation showing her the splendor of the us, the us that grows like the tree of life alive are we, together we shall be living in knowledge
living in love

Vast giant halls
Many doors, many cells.
These rooms are their downfalls Torment unto which no one can rebel.
Prisoners await their release
From a lifelong torture that shall not cease.
Many complain about their existence
But have not any effort of resistance.
Many do not know of their limits
They do not know what their mind permits.
All are capable of so much happiness
Only to find incessant torment From their unwilling imprisonment.
The prisoners are not allowed to leave They cannot rebel against What they've always been taught to believe.
One cell opens
and all prisoners awaken.
Some see a man wearing all black
They want to attack
The one who is free.
"Why him and not me"? Ask thee.
He hath unlearned his knowledge While he taught himself the True location Of the outer edge.

His limits extend
And transcend...
All...
Torment
He steps through his door
As few have done before.
Prisoners cling to their cage Watching this man with rage.
Screaming "Why hast thou forsaken me"?
"The truth shall set you free..." Said He.
I Shall always be.

into the Silent night He responds to the potent will of the highest standing for
It is the response
We have summoned

BT-064 — If Yoda had turned

Brian Tenneson · posted 26th July 2012 02:58 PM · original handle: modus_tollens

Get down, do you?
some good blow this is play games with razorblades let us get naked you must (the f up you must shut) growing my lightsaber is for blood this lust a need to kill, I have from my hands the lightning flows illuminating, an expanding truth does heaven is true home

hell is so far from home love is heaven and hell:
when one is at home and the other is not at home.
everything is everywhere, if anywhere

BT-065 — Symbols

Brian Tenneson · posted 10th August 2012 09:43 AM · original handle: modus_tollens

Today I think I'll be a symbol processing symbols that person caught in the Chinese Room experiment tomorrow I will become Chinese a linguist the day after that

They say that the map is not the territory language is not that which is referenced unless...
They say that if it can be referenced then it exists Shall I chant Santa's name until he brings me gold from a parallel universe?

The abstract structure does not owe its existence to the moment a human first uttered a description of it language is a concoction invented in the hope of us understanding the generality of linguistics and the generality of metamathematics stability and chaos reason and pseudo-reason information theory and literary analysis questions and answers creation and discovery each embedded in the other

Work remaining

- Inspect the image-only 114-page My Poetry.pdf (and seven corresponding page-range PDFs) for additional poems posted after the last text-readable entry, August 10, 2012, through 2015. This is not complete.
- Verify line breaks and intentional typography against page images.
- Investigate linked but inaccessible image/audio-only poems, and confirm remaining duplicates.
- Optionally organize by date of composition using embedded poem dates rather than forum posting dates.
